

Of the six settings on my car station, Air 1 is the one that remains playing 95% of the time, the other one being, K-Love, their sister station. Not only do I use it for entertainment purposes, it is my source of news updates. I live in a college town community and the majority of the cars driving around in the town and on campus sport the Air1 bumper sticker (some sport 2). In a world of decaying morals, why do away with the few stations that opt to go against the flow.
